NUMERICAL INDEX (folding chart), with ADDENDA

NAME SHEETS, 1 to 0 0 ¹₀₀ ⁰¹₀₀ 1

Order of placement of the name sheets:

First the male line, starting with the most recent (thus putting together all the name sheets in a certain line with the same surname), followed by the female that comes farthest distant along the lines of the sheets already considered, followed by her male line, followed by the female that comes farthest distant, etc., etc.

Or, restated in terms of the "Ancestor number" that appears on each sheet, to find the relative location of any two sheets:

- 1) Always read the number from right to left. If the number is split, e.g., 1 ¹₀₀ ⁰¹₀₀ 1, look only at the bottom line.
- 2) Comparing successive digits, concentrate on the first digit, if any, in which the two sheets differ.
- 3) The sheet with the "1" (male line, see discussion in KEY, Ancestor number) is to be found nearer the beginning of the book than the sheet with the "0" (female line); but if there is no digit in which the two sheets differ, then the shorter number, which refers to a descendent of the person represented by the longer number, is to be found nearer the beginning of the book. For example, sheets 0 111, 10 111, 1 011, 1 101, and 1 ¹₀₀ ⁰¹₀₀ 1 are to be found in that order. For the doubled line, see KEY, related ancestors.

Or, restated in terms of the NUMERICAL INDEX chart; Notice that in the chart the names in each male line, with the same surname start at the right with a female name (except in the case of "Mack") and extend to the left with an upward slope that decreases with each succeeding generation. The order of placement is, the sheets for each surname in order from late to early generations, and the successive surnames in order from top to bottom of the chart.

FOREWORD

Ancestor study can be dull: see, for instance, sheet 111 111 100 001 011 111* or any of a hundred others in this compilation. But not inevitably so, although this account usually only hints at the stories: See what happened to 10 100 011 according to Cousin Cotton, or look into the case of 101 111 111, who managed to get the witch done in instead. Or let 1 100 011 001 tell you a volume about his stepmother in the indirection of one sentence, or complain about the noises the devil was making in his house; the eloquence of the sermons of this same 1 100 011 001 at New Towne is said to have been a (or the?) major factor in the decision that a college, being organized in 1636, should be located there. Or take pride in 110 000 011, who came over on the first boat and subsequently hung up a record in the history of early colonial misdemeanors. Or learn why the English mother of 001 011 111 and 00 000 011 came to be born in Leiden. Or in 000 111 reference C, read what befell 11 000 111 after the redskins tomahawked his wife and infant. Or suffer with the friends of 11 101, "who had married contrary to the rules of our discipline after being diverse times treated with and cautioned not to do it. . . One of the friends delegated to call upon him reported that. . . it did not appear that he was in a suitable frame of mind to answer. . ."

These people may currently influence us more than we are aware. Edmund Freeman (= 1 011 011 111), who was born in England about 1590 and helped found the first English settlement on Cape Cod, lived until his grandson John Ellis (= 11 011 111) was an adult. This John Ellis, in turn, probably talked with his great grandson David Mack (= 11 111), who died in the year of the birth of his granddaughter, my Aunt Etta (= 111c), who lived until 1940 and certainly had a direct part in shaping my outlook on life.

For a number of years Mother (LTM, = 01) has edited and distributed, at the beginning of each year, a record of the past year's events in the lives of her descendents. Recently Edward's son Charles, as "Junior Recorder," has taken the responsibility for the production of this growing record and its distribution to the growing distribution list.

It was a good many years earlier that LTM encouraged me to make a permanent, orderly record of our ancestors and to try to collect information about them where it was missing. Although this record is still unfinished and will undoubtedly always remain so, and is too bulky to reproduce and pass out casually in one package, I realize that it is high time to accede to the requests of some nieces and nephews (not to mention cousins interested in perhaps a half or a fourth of the contents) and make some unfading copies available. I am glad that we can start the distribution of the first sheets now in celebration of LTM's ninetieth birthday.

This record started as a wholly backward-looking account of direct ancestors only. But the thought of limiting it so rigidly has conjured up memories of aunts, uncles, and cousins, not all of them very close in the genealogical sense: Uncle Henry (= 111f), who consistently beat me at chess when I was six, with one eye blindfolded and one arm in a sling behind his back; Cousin Bella (= 1 111 $\frac{1}{2}$ ac), who remembered her less-than-utopian childhood at communistic Brook Farm; Uncle Tom and Aunt Etta (= 111c and her husband), whose single remembered visit and many letters during the period when they were contributing so much to the cultural development of the Northwest, meant so much to me; Cousin Elizabeth (= 1 011 $\frac{1}{2}$ ga), whose voice at eighty-nine retained some of the quality that made it one of the best known on the London stage in the 1880's; petite, peppery Cousin Mary (= 10 001hd); Cousin Janet (= 1 111 $\frac{1}{2}$ ada), who took me to the big circus; Cousin Groverman (= 1 001aa), who introduced me to the five-cent movies when I was five; and a dozen others--and I have been inspired to extend the record toward the future, out to all the easily findable third cousins or so. If the effort ever leads to a maintenance of continuity that helps any descendent or niece or nephew of mine to store up memories of the grand world of people just outside the immediate family circle, it will have been worth while.

It has not been possible, without spending much more effort than has gone into the study so far, to search the original sources consistently and thoroughly, or even to check with those sources the verifiable information found in the derivative literature. Instead, for much of the material set forth here, I have depended, as skeptically as I felt I could afford to, upon data compiled by others. I shall not be surprised to learn that remediable errors, including the inclusion of false lines, have occurred. It's a wise child who knows his sixty-four great great great great great grandfathers! At least I have usually set down the sources of my information in order that others, as well as I, may improve the quality of the record.

I invite those of you who have the interest and the time, to work with me, or without me, in consolidating and extending the material presented here. It is not hard to find a place to start; for instance, a beginner with a day or two to spend in a city library can reasonably hope to contribute significantly to sheet 1 011 101 111 and neighboring sheets. The deeper job of verifying the amateur genealogies against the sources requires access to a large or a specialized library. Much more important in the cases of a few of you, probably, is the existence of source material in old letters or bibles or samplers whose information will be lost unless you report it.

JEM (= 11e)

October, 1961

P.S. - Christmas holidays, 1961-1962. The distribution predicted for last October has not taken place, but instead, due largely to the intelligent and devoted work of those two typist paragons, Barbara Serbick of Mack and Parker, Chicago, and Marilyn Balke of Madison, not just a few pages but the whole record is available for distribution now. If you keep us informed of your address, we may, from year to year, have supplementary sheets to distribute.

Financially, Edward E. Mack (= 11b), Edward E. Mack, Jr. (= 11ba), Charles Mack (= 11bb), and Jack Mack (= 11bc) are to be thanked for contributing staff time, supplies and equipment to this project. The binding and postage were also financed by them. Anticipating a desire on the part of some to participate, and being somewhat of Scottish ancestry, they have no false pride and will happily receive any contributions, large or small. (Actual direct expense per copy is estimated at $15.)

I hope that those of you who receive the record and those to whom you pass it on will feel under moral obligation to keep me and my successors informed of corrections and additions, including new vital statistics!

The first part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the general principles of the theory of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

In the second part of the paper, the author discusses the problem of the structure of the nucleus. It is shown that the structure of the nucleus is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the problem of the structure of the molecule. It is shown that the structure of the molecule is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

For the order of placement of the name sheets, see CONTENTS.

I'm afraid this sheet is going to be hard to read, even though the ideas involved are easy. Its purpose is to explain the marks on a typical name sheet in the body of the book. Each such sheet refers to a particular ancestor. Marks representing those about to be explained are shown in the box at the top of this page, which represent marks found on a typical page. The explanations follow:

Ancestor number ("1 011" in the example above). In order to make it possible to see relationships at a glance, the ancestors have been assigned numbers according to the so-called binary numbering system, in which the only digits are 0 and 1 (but there is no arithmetic, and the order of counting most convenient for genealogical recording is not that of the ordinary binary system). Following are the rules:

- 1) The ancestor number is always read from right to left.
- 2) The relationship shown is always to a grandchild of CSM (= 11) and LTM (= 01), all such grandchildren being through sons.
- 3) Each digit stands for a generation, and digits for older generations are placed to the left.

For convenience, the digits may be grouped by threes counting from the right, just as the thousands and millions may be pointed off in an ordinary number. Thus, the 1 011 in the example stands for the grandchild's father's father's mother's father, who is CSM's maternal grandfather Ephraim Robins junior. Related ancestors from cousin marriages (of which there are three in this record) pose a special problem:

The first part of the document is a letter from the Secretary of the Board of Education to the President of the Board of Trustees. The letter is dated January 1, 1900, and is addressed to the President of the Board of Trustees of the University of California. The letter discusses the progress of the Board of Education and the various projects that are being undertaken. It also mentions the need for more funds to support these projects and the importance of the Board of Trustees in providing these funds. The letter is signed by the Secretary of the Board of Education and is dated January 1, 1900.

The second part of the document is a report from the Board of Education to the Board of Trustees. The report is dated January 1, 1900, and is addressed to the Board of Trustees of the University of California. The report discusses the progress of the Board of Education and the various projects that are being undertaken. It also mentions the need for more funds to support these projects and the importance of the Board of Trustees in providing these funds. The report is signed by the Secretary of the Board of Education and is dated January 1, 1900.

The third part of the document is a letter from the President of the Board of Trustees to the Secretary of the Board of Education. The letter is dated January 1, 1900, and is addressed to the Secretary of the Board of Education. The letter discusses the progress of the Board of Trustees and the various projects that are being undertaken. It also mentions the need for more funds to support these projects and the importance of the Board of Education in providing these funds. The letter is signed by the President of the Board of Trustees and is dated January 1, 1900.

for instance 00 001, who is Sally Robins, is a sister of 1 011, so the sheet for their father could properly have been called either 11 011 or 100 001; here the sheet is called 100¹ 001 and arbitrarily placed with the sheets for the female line.

Reference symbol ("A"). The entry that follows the symbol letter is justified by the source reference (q.v., below) to which the same symbol is attached.

Name. The complete name of the ancestor, followed by a Roman numeral if several direct ancestors in the same line have the same name.

Dates. The birth, pertinent marriage, and death dates are placed in that order on the line immediately below the name. If the ancestor was married more than once, the marriage date is preceded by the serial number of the marriage, in parentheses. Dates are given in the order year, month, day, with "1" meaning January, "2" February, etc., although in the British Empire until 1752 the church and legal year began March 25. Because of the ambiguity in year for the dates from January to March and because twelve days were taken out of 1752, dates near the middle of the 1700's are usually written twice, according to the old (Julian, called OS) and the new (Gregorian, called NS) calendar; such dates not written twice must be considered ambiguous.

Spouse ancestor's name, birth year, death year. These data are listed in order two lines below the name.

Given name of child. This datum on males' sheets, repeating the name at the top of the previous sheet (except for sheets 1 and 11), may have an important source reference to verify the descent.

Descendents. Sometimes some descendents of an ancestor are listed, including people not in our direct line. The descendents of a couple are written on the sheet of the male for convenience in keeping names of one surname together. If several generations of descendents are to be listed, it is convenient to list each descendent on a separate line: first the letter "a" and the ancestor's first child, then "aa" and the latter's first child, etc., through the descendents of "a"; then "b" and the ancestor's second child, etc. See CSM's sheet, 11, for an easy example. If the chronological order of the children is uncertain, or if there are probably other children's names to be interpolated, letters at the end of the alphabet are used. "¹/₂" before the first small letter indicates a half cousin, i.e., a child of one of our ancestors but not of that ancestor's spouse who is our ancestor.

Source reference. Books and other references pertaining to ancestors with a certain surname are given letter reference symbols (see "Reference symbol," above) under the heading "(SURNAME) REFERENCES" at the bottom of the sheet for the first-listed ancestor of that surname in that ancestral line, i.e., the sheet for the female, except in the case of "Mack."

Years ("1962") listed in the inner margin of the sheet. At the bottom left corner of the front of each sheet is shown the year it was printed. Just above it there may be shown the year in which the last investigative work was done on that ancestor, and beside a particular reference, sometimes, the year in which the investigation was done with that reference.

Abbreviations. The following abbreviations or special symbols are used without further comment:

- @, meaning at or in;
- ae, aged;
- b, born;
- bap, baptized;
- bur, buried;
- ca, about;
- d, died;
- dau, daughter;
- div, divorced;
- N.S., new style date (Gregorian);
- O.S., old style date (Julian);
- prob, probably;
- res, resides or resided;
- unm, unmarried;
- wid, widow or widower

Laura Gordon Test

Born @ Walnut Hills, then a suburb of Cincinnati, Ohio (one record says Covington, Ky.). Middle name changed from "Standish" in his youth, presumably after the family began to doubt the story that $10\frac{1}{100}01\frac{1}{100}$ was the grandson or great grandson of Hugh Calkins or Caulkins and Lois Standish, daughter of the soldier Myles S. Childhood from 1858 or 1860 @ St. Louis. Early education at Columbian Academy (exact name may be incorrect), now Washington University. Phillips Exeter Academy 1872-1875. Harvard College, AB 1879. College of Physicians and Surgeons (now part of Columbia University), New York, MD 1883. Practiced @ Cold Spring, N. Y., and Boston, Mass. Professor of materia medica and therapeutics and secretary of the faculty of the homeopathic medical college, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, 1889-1895. Practiced with office at the corner of Hyde Park Boulevard and 51st? Street, and professor, Hahnemann College, Chicago 1895-1896. Practiced in La Porte, Ind., 1896-1908. Started studying for the ministry of the Church of the New Jerusalem, Weller's Grove, La Porte 1896. Lived @ La Porte at northwest corner Michigan and Maple Avenues (north half of house) 1897/1-1899/6, 705 Jefferson Avenue 1899-1908. La Porte county coroner 1907-1908. Pastor, Church of the New Jerusalem, 2532? Lawrence Avenue, and lived @ 2353 Maplewood Avenue, Toledo, Ohio from 1908/11 to 1916/10. Returned to La Porte as pastor Church of the New Jerusalem, northwest corner Indiana and Maple Avenues, and lived @ 212 Maple Avenue, 1916/10 to his death. Presiding minister, Illinois Association of the New Jerusalem, 192 -1930. Took public stands against compulsory vaccination, unusual for a physician of his time, and against prohibition of alcoholic beverages, unusual for a minister of his time and place. Author: "Similia similibus curantur?", Otis Clapp and Son, Boston and Providence 1888; "Philosophy in homeopathy," Gross and Delbridge, Chicago 1890; "Are we to have a united medical profession?", La Porte 1904; sermons and articles in church papers.

N Rob Roy, novel by Sir Walter Scott. In the introduction relates how members of clan MacGregor twice lost the characteristic part of their name and some became plain "Mack." Also, I think the same author has a poem ("The Nameless Clan") with a similar account. Not necessarily pertinent to our family, even if based upon fact.

B_h has a long account. Started as a merchant in Amherst. Moved about 1848 to Cincinnati and later was connected there with the Protection Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., until that company suspended business in 1854. Local agent for Cincinnati starting 1855, later supervisor for Ohio and other adjacent states, for the Home Insurance Company of New York. In 1888 went to the newly transferred general agency in St. Louis, Mo., to supervise the large western and southern business of the company.

H_h has excerpts from several letters written by 111 to 011 during their engagement.

H_h has an account of a reception held 1841/11/5 by 1 111 and 0 111, evidently to introduce 011 to the people of Amherst, in the house now famous as the Emily Dickinson house (see 1 111).

F "Death of Samuel E. Mack. He died at his residence on Sixteenth street last Sunday evening, the 16th inst., at nine o'clock, after an illness of nearly a month. His religion was in consonance with his daily life. It was simple, undemonstrative, unflagging. He despised cant and hollow professions."

The tenth part of the paper is devoted to a detailed discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of the structure of the atom.

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that a knowledge of the past is essential for a full understanding of the present and for the development of a sound policy for the future. The author points out that the history of the United States is a complex and varied one, and that it is necessary to study it from many different angles in order to gain a complete picture of it.

2. The second part of the paper discusses the role of the government in the development of the United States. It is argued that the government has played a crucial role in the development of the country, and that it is necessary for the government to continue to play this role in the future. The author points out that the government has been responsible for the establishment of the basic institutions of the country, and for the development of the economy and the social system.

3. The third part of the paper discusses the role of the individual in the development of the United States. It is argued that the individual has played a crucial role in the development of the country, and that it is necessary for the individual to continue to play this role in the future. The author points out that the individual has been responsible for the establishment of the basic institutions of the country, and for the development of the economy and the social system.

4. The fourth part of the paper discusses the role of the community in the development of the United States. It is argued that the community has played a crucial role in the development of the country, and that it is necessary for the community to continue to play this role in the future. The author points out that the community has been responsible for the establishment of the basic institutions of the country, and for the development of the economy and the social system.

5. The fifth part of the paper discusses the role of the nation in the development of the United States. It is argued that the nation has played a crucial role in the development of the country, and that it is necessary for the nation to continue to play this role in the future. The author points out that the nation has been responsible for the establishment of the basic institutions of the country, and for the development of the economy and the social system.

I_b @ Middlefield, Mass.

C_d @ Amherst, Mass.

C_{prominent} in Middlefield: town clerk for very many years, member both branches of the legislature, postmaster, assessor, justice of the peace, general of the militia. Merchant in Middlefield and in Amherst.

H_{has} many references to David and his family and affairs.

H_{Re} the brick house on Main Street, Amherst, where Emily Dickinson lived for years as a recluse [p 19, quoting the Hampshire Gazette of 1833/2/27] "John Leland and Nathan Dickinson offer for public sale on March 25. . . the western half of the large and elegant Dwelling House, occupied and lately owned by Samuel F. Dickinson, Esq. in Amherst, together with about one acre of land adjoining, including a valuable garden, and various kinds of fruit trees--with a barn, chaise-house, wood-house, &c--Also, ten acres of first quality land on the south side of the road, opposite the house. (Sold to David Mack, of Middlefield, for $5,250.)" [p 331, quoting the Express, Amherst, of 1855/4/20] "SALE OF REAL ESTATE.--The elegant place where the late venerable Dea. Mack resided for upwards of twenty years, has been recently sold by his son, Samuel E. Mack, of Cincinnati, to the Hon. Edward Dickinson, whose father, Samuel F. Dickinson, formerly owned the place. Thus has the worthy son of an honored sire the pleasure of possessing the "Old Homestead." Here was born in 1790 the Hon. Chester Ashley, United States Senator from Arkansas. . . ." [p 332, quoting a report of Mrs. Hannah Terry to her sister, Mary Shepard, 1855/4/27] "Sam. Mack has sold beautiful home of his father to Edward Dickinson for $6000 six thousand Mr. Terry felt as tho, he would have purchased it. Many purchasers were waiting for terms, but Sam made a secret sale. Dea. Smith of Enfield Mass wanted it, and it would have brought much more, Sam has no judgment & is wasting all his father left him." [p 332, 1855/5/2] Edward Dickinson gives Samuel Mack a mortgage. It is shown that the system has solutions for all values of the parameters α and β if the function $f(x)$ is continuous and has a bounded derivative. The second part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β . It is shown that the solutions of the system of equations (1) are unique and depend continuously on the parameters α and β . Will dated 1720/1/5, proved 1721/3/28, recorded in the fourth book of wills for the county of New London, folios 177, 178.

gives a copy of the will.

In 1940 JEM and his sister CRM called upon the late Judge William Marvin, clerk of Old Lyme, Connecticut, who showed them copies of the records of the farm of 11 111 111 and, the following day, took them for a walk on the estate of Richard Duncan Ely (not a relative) near the mouth of the Connecticut River, across from Essex, and showed them in the woods the ruins of an old stone house, which he said he was convinced was the house of 11 111 111. Many of the foundation stones were still in place and the outlines of the farmyard, surrounded by stone walls, were clearly discernable. A few hundred yards away, at approximately the nearest point on the river, he pointed out a collection of some dozens or so of boulders, some of them weighing several tons, which he said must have been Mack's landing. JEM has photographs of the house ruins.

1.1 Purpose and Scope

This document is intended to provide a comprehensive overview of the project's goals and objectives.

The project is designed to address the current challenges faced by the organization and to implement a new system that will improve efficiency and reduce costs. The scope of the project includes the design, development, and deployment of the system, as well as the training of staff and the ongoing support and maintenance of the system.

The project is being undertaken in a phased approach, with the first phase focusing on the design and development of the system. The second phase will involve the deployment of the system and the training of staff. The final phase will be the ongoing support and maintenance of the system.

The project is being managed by the Project Manager, who will be responsible for ensuring that the project is completed on time and within budget. The Project Manager will also be responsible for coordinating the work of the project team and for reporting progress to the steering committee.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β . It is shown that the system has solutions for all values of the parameters α and β if the function $f(x)$ is continuous and has a bounded derivative.

2. In the second part of the paper the problem of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β is solved. It is shown that the system has solutions for all values of the parameters α and β if the function $f(x)$ is continuous and has a bounded derivative.

B_{Mary}

C_b @ Springfield, Essex, England.

C_d @ Wraysbury, near Windsor, England.

C_e Emigrated with Governor John Winthrop 1630 to America.

C_o One of the grantees of the Massachusetts charter.

C_o One of the founders of Roxbury; first signer of the church covenant.

C_w Withdrew 1736 and went with Rev. Thomas Hooker and Rev. Samuel Stone, settling at the junction of the Connecticut and Agawam rivers, then Connecticut, now Springfield, Massachusetts, but transferred to Massachusetts in 1641 under Pynchon's influence

C_p Published 1650 during a visit to England, the pamphlet "The meritorious price of our redemption," with an anti-Calvinistic view of the atonement; the book was ordered burned and Pynchon cited to appear before the general court; his letter of explanation was deemed unsatisfactory and he was summoned a second time to retract his heresy. Returned to England 1652/9 and spent the rest of his life @ Wraysbury.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is well-posed and that the solution exists and is unique. The second part of the paper is devoted to the construction of the solution. It is shown that the solution can be constructed by the method of successive approximations. The third part of the paper is devoted to the numerical solution of the problem. It is shown that the numerical solution can be obtained by the method of finite differences.

[Until recently I thought Mother was born during the great Chicago fire. The details of some events in Chicago 1871/10/7 to 9, Saturday to Monday, are pertinent. Early autumn 1871 was a period of severe drought in the midwest. Incidentally, a much more extensive fire 1871/10/8 starting near Peshtigo, Wisconsin, swept an area in Wisconsin and Michigan a hundred times as great as that swept by the great Chicago fire, with much greater loss of life. In Chicago, with respect to the intersection of Clinton and Van Buren Streets, 137 De Koven Street is nine blocks north and one-half block west, and Walnut Street runs west from a point seven blocks north and about two blocks west, so that its eastern end was about five blocks west of the nearest burned area -- JEM.]

^GSaturday evening, after a week unusual for the number and intensity of its fires, by far the greatest fire Chicago had ever experienced, destroyed the two-by-two block area east from Clinton Street to the Chicago River and north from Van Buren Street to Adams Street. It was brought under control by 3:30 a.m. Sunday. Its connection with future events lay mainly in its exhaustion of personnel and equipment.

^ASunday 4 a.m. Laura was born, on Walnut Street (street number unknown). The fire came within about six blocks.

^GSunday about 8:30 p.m. at 137 De Koven Street the great fire began, which destroyed an area roughly a mile eastward (to the lake) by four miles northward (to Fullerton Street) from its origin. Monday 11 p.m. rain ended the drought and the danger of further spread of the fire.

^ALaura at 9 months is supposed to have walked up the aisle at Christ Episcopal Church, Chicago, to be baptized.

^ATaught by her mother until enrolment 1881 autumn in the fourth grade, except for a term 1879-1880 in Miss Pollock's Kindergarten, Washington, D. C., as a fellow-pupil of Bessie Hutchinson, later mother of BPM (= wife of 11a). Entered Washington High School 1886, probably O Street between Fifth and Sixth Streets, N. W. Graduated 1890. Attended Washington Normal School, corner Thirteenth and K Streets, N. W., 1890-1891.

^AStarted teaching, 1891-1892, half-day second grade, Carberry School (prob Second Street between C and D Streets, N. E., Washington) for forty dollars per month.

Francis William

[NOTE: There have been two widely variant schools of thought about the time of birth of 1 101: that it was between 1769/10/9 and 1770/10/7, and that it was about a decade or so later. Evidence confined to reference K, that it was much later still, may be dismissed, as shown below.

Favoring the earlier range of dates are: First: Reference I, definitely placed by references J and L as 1849/10, is unequivocal: "Died on the 8th inst., at the residence of James Rariden, Esq., near Cambridge, Hon. JOHN TEST, in the 80th year of his age." (But notice, below, that the sentence quoted probably has an error in the date of death!) Second: The long-held belief of LTM (= 01) in the earlier range of dates. This belief has been based, so far as I know, on no evidence other than reference I.

Favoring the later range of dates are:

First: Reference B: "My father. . . married my mother. . . I do not know the exact year but suppose it was 1801 or 1802. . . being at the time of his marriage to my mother only 19 or 20."

Second: Reference F has (see 11 101, DESCENDENTS) a sibling 11 101c born 1770, then two others undated, then 1 101 - 11 101f, then a sister 11 101g, who married 1804; thus the birth was probably between 1773 and 1784.

Third: Since evidently the time of first courtship of 0 101 by 1 101 was about 1836 (see 0 101, item from 0 101 reference B), reference K "Those who saw him would deem him thirty, Yet he was older by some twenty years" places the year of birth in the decade preceding 1786.

Fourth: Age about 60 for marriage is more likely than about 70.

In view of all the above, I believe 1 101 was born about 1780, and in view of the month and day given in reference K, would conjecture that the most likely date is 1780/2/25 -- JEM.]

1961 Kb 1802/2/25. [The year is surely incorrect; the same reference has him a judge in 1816! The birth year is that of 1 101¹/₂a, also a judge. Possibly 2/25 is the correct birthday -- JEM.]

Kb @ Salem, BK New Jersey.

Jd @ the residence of James Rariden, Esq. [= husband of 1 101¹/₂b], near Cambridge, K Wayne County, Indiana.

I "Died on the 8th inst." J "At the meeting of the court Oct. 9, 1849, 1 o'clock, P. M. . . death of Hon. John Test, at 20 minutes past 2 o'clock this morning." [I believe reference J; the early morning hour could well have been confused with the previous evening -- JEM.]

L"FUNERAL. Yourself and Family are respectfully invited to attend the Funeral of JUDGE JOHN TEST, at the house of J. Rariden, Cambridge, at 10 o'clock, and at the M. E. Church in Centerville, at 12 o'. to-morrow. Cambridge City, Oct. 9, 1849."

BSpent childhood in New Jersey.

DRaised in Philadelphia.

BBegan and gave up study of law before marriage.

BMoved soon after first marriage from Philadelphia to Wilmington, Delaware.

BAfter severe business losses, prob 1804 or 1805, BDmoved Bto Brownsville, Pennsylvania and to Uniontown, Pennsylvania, buying an interest in a furnace there Dto Fayette Chance Furnace, at the foot of the Laurel Hill Mountains in Fayette County. [Both Brownsville and Uniontown are in Fayette County.] DSuccessfully ran the furnace perhaps two or three years, sold out and went to Cheat River in Western Virginia but failed to make the furnace there profitable. BDMoved to Cincinnati, Ohio, and thence Dafter about a year to White Water and BDsettled in Brookville, Indiana, Babout 1810 Sprob 1812 Dshortly before the beginning of the War of 1812. DRented an old log mill and while the grist was grinding BDstudied law, being admitted to the bar Dprob ca 1813. DProspered in Brookville; court clerk, merchant, judge of the court; resigned judgeship to run for Congress.

BDecided during the War of 1812, which coincided with Indian wars against Tecumseh, to join Harrison's army, but was dissuaded by his wife.

SPresident 1817/3 of the first court in the county under the constitution (quoted from Mrs. O'Bryne of Brownsville).

Kin full: "TEST, JOHN, a Representative from Indiana; born in Salem, N. J., February 25, 1802; attended the common schools; studied law, was admitted to the bar, and began practice in Brookville, Franklin County, Ind.; held several local offices; judge of the third district circuit 1816-1819; elected as a Clay Democrat to the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congresses (March 4, 1823 - March 3, 1827); unsuccessful candidate for re-election in 1826 to the Twentieth Congress; elected as a Whig to the Twenty-first Congress (March 4, 1829 - March 3, 1831); presiding judge of the Indiana circuit court; moved to ^DDuring second term in Congress, helped formulate the Wabash Canal project; great friend of internal improvements.

^N"Judge O. K. Smith says that stump speaking began in Indiana about 1826. As an example of popular ignorance and intolerance of what was considered extravagant statements by speakers, he relates that Judge John Test, a Representative in Congress from the eastern district of Indiana, told an audience that the speed of railway trains in England was thirty miles an hour. The crowd jeered and roared with laughter; and cried out, "You are crazy, or do you think we are fools, a man could not live a moment (when going) at that speed!" For this assertion Judge Test was defeated for re-election. Smith 80."

^IMoved to Mobile, Alabama shortly after retirement from Congress, and practiced law. ^ABelieved to have lived on Shell Road, Mobile.

^I~~o~~Paralyzed ^Ica six years ^oin the spring ca three years ^I~~o~~before death, during the argument ^Ain Mobile ^I~~o~~of an important ^omurder ^I~~o~~case, and never recovered.

^DAbout five feet and a half inches tall, good ordinary size; easy in his manners; wore a queue; rather precise in dress and in personal appearance; a fair talker though not eloquent; his manner impressed a jury with fairness and honesty.

^Bquotes 1 101: ". . .my tasks were severe and my nature sometimes rebelled against them. I felt there was nothing for me but work. Why could I not enjoy life as others did and could. Then for a few days I would relax my efforts but shame would drive me back to it with redoubled forces. There was nothing but work for me. I could not throw it aside conscientiously. After a while it became easier to me. I was not happy in idleness. And the reward of industry I enjoyed, for there are pleasures in an active industrious life."

^AExpected to be named Postmaster General by President Harrison, who, however, died after only a month in office.

1939 [JCT (= 001) told me in my childhood of a letter written by 1 101 to his wife, perhaps then his fiancée, asking how she would like to be a lady of the cabinet. It would be interesting to know the date of this letter relative to the date of the marriage and to that of Harrison's inauguration, 1841/3/4 -- JEM.]

^AThe Indiana University Library, Bloomington, Indiana, has in its manuscript collection two of four volumes of Test letters, of which the first is one of Volumes I. II and III and the second, Volume IV. The two present volumes run from 1820 to 1845 and contain letters from John, Charles, Martha, and Rebecca Test, and other items pertaining to the family. The other two volumes were missing in 1922 and still missing in 1949.

ca 1939 b 1747/4/4 (according to Anna Petit Bromell of 429 Stafford, Germantown, Pennsylvania, and according to a record quoted by Frederick Cleveland Test to Elizabeth Hewes Thompson as being probably wrong).

Q "Complaint was made by overseers of Piles Grove Meeting that Francis Test [here there occurs "(Jr.)," prob interpolated by LTM (= 01) -- JEM] had married contrary to the rules of our Discipline after being divers times treated with and precautioned not to do it. therefore John Davis is appointed to prepare a testification against him and bring it to next." [Vol. 5, p 628 of copies records.]

Q "3/10, 1768 Francis Test produced a paper in the meeting condemning his conduct in marrying contrary to Friends Rules, which was read, in consideration of which is referred to next." [Vol. 6, p 17 of copied records.]

Q "This meeting appoints three ---- to visit Francis Test and endeavor to feel after the sincerity of his paper offered other meeting and report their sence thereon to next meeting. Dec. 26, 1768; One of the friends appointed reported that he and one of the others visited Francis Test and that it did not appear that he was in a suitable disposition of mind to answer his acknowledgment offered to the meeting, therefore Benj. Thompson is appointed to return his paper and let him know that it seemed most easy to friends not to receive it until way may appear more clear for it. Jan 30, 1769; The friend appointed reported that he returned Francis Test acknowledgment according to the appointment of this meeting." [Vol. 6, p 21 of copied records.]

A has, d when 1 101 was 10 or 12 years old, i.e., assuming the correctness of JEM's conclusion on the birth date range of 1 101, d ca 1790 to 1795. BD has, 11 101 lived more than 50 years with his second wife from which one can conclude that death occurred previous to 1782. D also has, according to JEM's notes, d ca 1815; the basis for the latter statement is not now available. It appears most likely that death was in the early youth of 1 101, ca 1785 to 1795.

F Of a Presbyterian family.

[LTM (= 01) has long held the belief, on what basis I do not know, that General Morgan and Daniel Boone are relatives in this Morgan line. I once thought that she referred to the Confederate general, famous for his raids into the north during the Civil War, but he was born in Alabama and more probably it was to the Revolutionary general Daniel Morgan, who was born in Hunterdon County in northern New Jersey. I have seen somewhere that Boone's mother was named Morgan and, unlike the family of 01 101, was a Quaker -- JEM.]

Their issue" [reminder of information given under Descendents, below].

1961 [I have just compared reference A with a copy in reference D, evidently typed several years ago by LTM (= 01). In the typing, LTM put in parentheses three items she evidently was not sure about: the word before "Alvington," which she wrote "Goval;" the month of birth of the first child; and the year of birth of the second child. I should say that the former was "W--t" with the third letter probably "s," and the word thus, "West." I remember discussing this word with LTM several years ago, and I have the impression that LTM found it illegible and inserted "Goval" from reference G, where "Goval Alvington" occurs without any possibility of confusion. Whether Goval Alvington exists or whether it appeared in the original from which reference G was copied, by a misinterpretation of reference A at the time the obituary was written, can probably be answered only by inquiry in the neighborhood of Alvington. The month of birth of the first child appears to me to be written "Jenery," in agreement with LTM's typing "(Jan.)." The year of birth of the second child, with those of most of the others, is now off the edge of the remaining part of the page. I think I have partly deciphered the year of birth of the last child, which LTM wrote as "---." In every other detail the account here agrees with the typing of LTM. The whole inscription appears the work of a literate person with the exception of the spelling "Jenery" and that each of the first five children is referred to as "bornd," with the final "d" crossed out later, at the same time, in the first four cases -- JEM.]

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the general principles of the theory of the subject. It is shown that the theory is based on the assumption that the subject is a system of interacting elements. The second part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the specific properties of the subject. It is shown that the subject has a number of properties which are not shared by other systems. The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the applications of the theory. It is shown that the theory can be applied to a wide range of problems in the field of the subject.

CONCLUSION

The theory of the subject is a new and important contribution to the knowledge of the subject. It is based on the assumption that the subject is a system of interacting elements. The theory has a number of properties which are not shared by other systems. The theory can be applied to a wide range of problems in the field of the subject.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the general principles of the theory of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

The second part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the specific properties of the atom. It is shown that the specific properties of the atom are determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the laws of quantum mechanics are in agreement with the experimental facts.

The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the applications of the theory of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the theory of the structure of the atom has many applications, and that the applications are in agreement with the experimental facts.

The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the conclusions of the theory of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the conclusions of the theory of the structure of the atom are in agreement with the experimental facts.

The fifth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the bibliography of the theory of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the bibliography of the theory of the structure of the atom is in agreement with the experimental facts.

b @ Wexham, bap 1642/6 @ Salem.

Charges in college 1658/3/7 to 1659/3/7 are for tuition, gallery, detriment, and sizing; credit, 59 pound butter and 5 sheep.

Took part in [Harvard?] commencement 1665, receiving M.A.

Shortly after receiving M.A., was @ Dover, New Hampshire, perhaps as a preacher.

Freeman 1666.

Officiated 1668 to 1671 as pastor @ Woronoco, now Westfield, Massachusetts.

Went 1671 to the part of Braintree now Quincy, Massachusetts, as pastor on order 1671/11/23 of the county court placing him there due to a division in the congregation, the court "having taken into consideration the many means that have been used with the Church of Braintree, and hitherto nothing done to effect, as to the obtaining the ordinances of Christ amongst them, this Court therefore orders and desires Mr. Moses Fiske to improve his labors in preaching the word of Braintree until the church there agree and obtain supply for the work of the ministry, or this court take further order." Third minister of the first church.

Recommended and dismissed from the church @ Chelmsford; joined 1672/8/8 the church @ Braintree. Ordained 1672/9/11.

H. "Mr. Eliot prayed and gave the charge" [at the ordination].

During the last years of his ministry the southern part of his parish broke away to build a church of their own. They had petitioned for years without success; the distance to travel was long, the roads bad. Much bad feeling and litigation was involved.

whereas reference A, which appears to be somewhat less critical, has a direct paternal line of eight, not including this Moses I. If reference F is correct, undoubtedly Moses I is connected with the line given in reference F insofar as that may be valid. One might conjecture that Moses I is the son of John II, in which case reference A would lead to the same line as that given below except that "" should be replaced by "I." Reference A shows:

1*10 011 001 John Fiske II b 1601, m (1) 1629, d 1676/1/14.

First child. b @ St. James. Graduated @ Immanuel College, Cambridge, and after studying theology engaged in the ministry. In consequence of the persecution then carried on against the Puritans, and the difficulties and annoyances in the way of preaching, turned to medicine. Determined to move to America. Disguised himself and embarked with John Allen, afterwards first minister of Dedham. Taught school some years @ Cambridge, then in Salem; gave up school 1643 and moved to Wenham, where he was ordained 1644/10/8. Salary 1655, £40 per year. Moved 1656 with a majority of the church to Chelmsford, where he died. He and his family played a chief part in the early history of Wenham, the last of the seven towns in Essex County set off from Salem and 22 miles northeast of Boston.

m (2) 1672 Elizabeth, wid of Edmund Henchman. Reference A has much material, including the following and other material from reference H: "For twenty years did he shine in the goldenstick of Chelmsford, a plain, but an able, powerful and useful preacher of the gospel, rarely, if ever, by sickness hindered from the exercise of his ministry."

[This man b 1601 could possibly but not very likely have been the grandson of William b 1566 -- JEM.]

1 1*10 011 001 John Fiske I d 1633. First child. b and lived @ St. James. Reference H mentions his four chr.

CHAPTER I

The first part of the history of the United States is the history of the colonies. The colonies were founded by Englishmen, and they were at first dependent on England. But as the colonies grew in number and in power, they began to assert their independence. They fought the Revolutionary War, and they won. They became a free and independent nation.

The second part of the history of the United States is the history of the Union. The Union was formed by the joining of the thirteen original states. The states agreed to work together for the good of all. They made a constitution, and they elected a president. The Union has been the source of strength and unity for the United States. It has helped the United States to grow and to prosper.

The third part of the history of the United States is the history of the present. The United States has come a long way since it was first founded. It has become a great and powerful nation. It has helped to bring peace and freedom to many other parts of the world. The United States is a land of opportunity and hope. It is a land where everyone can live and prosper. The history of the United States is a story of courage and sacrifice. It is a story of a people who have fought for their freedom and for the freedom of others. The United States is a great and noble nation, and it will continue to be so for many years to come.

REFERENCE A except as noted.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The document also outlines the specific requirements for record-keeping, including the need for timely and complete reporting of all transactions.

In addition, the document highlights the role of internal controls in ensuring the accuracy and reliability of financial information. It stresses that internal controls should be designed and implemented in a way that minimizes the risk of error and fraud, and that they should be regularly reviewed and updated to reflect changes in the business environment.

The document also discusses the importance of transparency and accountability in financial reporting. It states that financial statements should be prepared in accordance with established accounting standards and should be audited by independent external auditors to provide assurance to investors and other stakeholders. Furthermore, the document emphasizes the need for clear communication and disclosure of financial information to the public.

Overall, the document provides a comprehensive overview of the key principles and practices that underpin a robust financial system. It serves as a guide for organizations and individuals alike, highlighting the importance of sound financial management and the need for continuous improvement and oversight.

The document concludes by reiterating the commitment to transparency and accountability, and by expressing confidence in the ability of the financial system to maintain its integrity and to provide reliable information to all stakeholders. It also notes that the principles and practices outlined in the document are subject to ongoing review and refinement to ensure their continued relevance and effectiveness.

In closing, the document expresses a strong belief in the power of sound financial management to drive economic growth and prosperity. It encourages all individuals and organizations to embrace the principles and practices outlined in the document, and to work together to build a more transparent and accountable financial system for the future.

b @ Towchester "the Powder treason day that very day & that very houre of the day wherin the Parlament should have bin blown up by the Popish priests, I was then borne, which occasioned my father to give me this name Thomas, because he sayd, I would hardly beleewe, that ever any such wickedness should be attempted by men agaynst so religious and good Parlament."

In 1608 came a plague "which swept away many in my father's family, both sisters and servants; and I being the youngest & best beloved of my mother was sent away the brake out to live with my aged grandfather & grandmother in Fossecut, a most blind town & corner, & those I lived with also being very well to live yet very ignorant; & there was I put to keepe geese & other such country worke, all that time much neglected of them."

Thence to an uncle in Adthorp and back to Towchester after his mother's death "but not of the plague."

Took bachelor's degree at the University 1623, graduated 1625 with a high reputation for scholarship; had Master of Arts conferred 1627.

Preached three years @ Earles Colne; apprehended 1630/12/16 as a non-conformist. ^FSilenced by Bishop Laud.

Went to the home of Sir Richard Darley, knight, at Buttercrambe, for about a year.

Settled after marriage (1) @ Heddon, Northumberland. Moved to an adjoining town, into a house "which we found haunted with the devil as we conceived, for when we came into it a known witch went out of it, and being troubled with noyses 4 or 5 nights together we sought God by prayer to remove so sore a trayall, and the Lord blest us there and removed the trouble."

Fled back to Heddon.

^FSilenced by Archbishop Neile.

Took passage ca 1634/6/1 in disguise with his wife, child, and maid, in a coal ship for Ipswich, Suffolk. Shortly to Earles Colne; embarked autumn 1634 in the "Hope

A_b @ Ossett, Yorkshire West Riding, England.

D_b @ or near the village of Welby in the East Riding of Yorkshire. [Discredited in the face of references A and B -- JEM.]

[NOTE: H_{has}, "Friday being Mr. Wilby's birthday he in company with the two little ones, Sally Ann [= 10 001a], and Julia [= 10 001b], Sister Dianthe [= 1⁰⁰ 001b], Miss Goodwin, & your friend [= 1 011] rode out..." The Friday referred to was 9/7. A_{has}, bap 1779/3/13. These lead with rather high probability to a birth date of 1778/9/7 - JEM.]

B "...on the first Tuesday of July in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ten Francis Wilby of said Boston Merchant formerly of Ossett in England was admitted to become a citizen of the United States..."

H "I have been repeatedly interrupted by Francis, who delights to tease me with his innocent pleasantry."

H Moved ca 1810/10/22 to Charlestown.

I "Ninety-five years ago the parish of St. Paul's was formed in Boston. On March 13, 1819, a subscription paper was circulated setting forth the intentions of the signatories. On the building committee were Daniel Webster, William Appleton, William Shimmin, David Sears, John and George Odin, Shubael Bell, Francis Wilby and George Sullivan. The cornerstone was laid on Sept. 4, 1819, and on June 30 of the following year the edifice was consecrated by Bishop Griswold. . . A little leather-covered book records the meetings of the building committee, and a smaller book, encased in covers of blue board, gives the list of owners of tombs beneath the church. Most of the records have been copied and the originals placed in security vaults. The first mention that can be found of the tombs is in the proprietors' records. Under the date of Nov. 1, 1821, at an adjourned annual meeting, it is recorded: 'Voted, that Messrs. Sullivan, Merrill, Gerry, Wilby, Tracy, E. Williams, Ingalls, W. C. Greene, Dehorn, A. Willis, with the Wardens, be a committee to consider the expediency of using the cellar under the church as a cemetery. . .'"

[NOTE: Ossett (then usually spelled Osset) is now a parish adjacent to Dewsbury in the urban complex of Huddersfield, Yorkshire, England. I am not sure just when Ossett became a parish. It has had its own records (which we have not had any occasion to investigate) since about 1799, but in the records of the Dewsbury parish at Dewsbury (which we spent two days investigating) during some time intervals at least as early as 1716 and as late as 1819 there was a column in each entry for the name of the place or the abbreviation "Dew" or "Oss" -- JEM.]

[Short intervals between marriage and first childbirth were evidently not very unusual for the time and place (cf. birth dates of 010.001, 10 001). Many marriages in the parish register list one or both of the principals as "minor;" we did not learn the significance, if any, of the omission of such a listing in this extreme case -- JEM.]

I" Hartford, April 4, 1830. My dear father [= 1 011],
 . . . Not having heard from you for two months. . . and when I have felt to mourn on account of not having heard Aunt Wilby has always said, hope for the best--this we have all tried to do. Aunt Wilby [= 00 001] has spent the past three weeks with us. I never before knew what an Aunt Boston held, what a dear kind affectionate sympathizing aunt I had. I can not tell you how dearly I love her.
 She left us yesterday morning in the stage. She thought she had already left her children a great while and hearing that Julia [= 10 001b] and Charlotte [= 10 001d] were rather indisposed she felt it to be her duty to return to them. Just imagine how extremely lonesome we must be, those who now sit around our table are Willey [?], the nurse, sister Cornelia [= 1 011c], Brother Burnet [= 1 011¹/₂e]
 . . . Rebecca Robins [= 011]."

[NOTE: There appears to be reasonable doubt as to whether Esther Dunham (= 0 0¹ 00⁰¹) was the dau of Micajah Dunham and Elizabeth Lasell as shown here, or of Daniel Dunham and Sarah Huxford (also spelled Thexford). Reference D has the latter pair and, as the next paragraph shows, that choice is supported by reference G. I prefer the version shown here, from reference A, as it appears to be supported by contemporary records, reference F, although I have not myself investigated reference F; certainly before accepting the Daniel version, one must investigate the two dates marked "sic," below, for I think that at least one mistake in identity is involved. Since Micajah and Daniel were brothers, the doubts expressed here have no effect on the validity of the designation of Joseph Dunham and Hester Wormall as 110 1 1 00⁰¹ and 010 1 1 00⁰¹, respectively, or of their ancestors; but they do cast doubt on all the Lasell line -- JEM.]

According to reference G, reference D is correct in showing Daniel Dunham and Sarah Huxford or Thexford as the parents of 0 0¹ 00⁰¹ and reference A substantiates that parenthood. LTM (= 01) has recorded (from reference A?) that Daniel was born 1689 in Plymouth, lived @ Martha's Vineyard, Newport, and Great Barrington, and married Sarah Thexford, who d 1772; enlisted 1699 [sic] for three years under Captain Warren; was in the expedition 1745 to Louisburg; d 1758/2/2 in Great Barrington; and was bur @ Newport. 1961 [I doubt the statements from references A and Y given in the next two paragraphs. At the time of my intensive study of this line in the mid-1920's I worked a good deal on the hypothesis that Solomon's father was named John; the only strong basis I can now find for that hypothesis is that, by elimination, the only Solomon whose birth is recorded early enough to be 1 0 ¹/₀₀ ⁰¹/₀₀ 1 is Xa, below. D [One] John C [whom I label "X" -- JEM] m 1719/11/5
@ Lebanon Katherine Foster. Children:
Xa Solomon C b 1729/4/24. [Since this is listed out of chronological order and would imply two births less than half a year apart, I interpret the year as a wrong transcription of 1724 -- JEM.]

Xb Daniel C

Xc Hannah C b 1726/5/26

Xd Ezekiel C b 1728/11/4

Xe Israel C b 1731/6/8

Xf Elizabeth C

Xg Simeon C b 1736/6/10

D One John C third m 1721/4/9 @ Lebanon Sarah Huntington. Nine chn listed, but no Solomon.

O In New London:

1713³/1/31 "Jno Caulking & Francis Leach Publisht."

1718/7/27 "Jno Caulking one John" [bapt].

1718⁸/3/14 "a Child of Jno Caulkings was buried died yesterd."

For the town of Sharon, reference K, which claims to have all the recorded births, marriages, and deaths from 1721 to 1879 (except one page with marriages and tombstone records), has many entries with the surname Calkins and variants, but no Hugh C and no Solomon C and only the following two John C's:

John C b 1748/3/14, son of John and Elizabeth C, province of New York.

John C jr. m 1769/10/12 Rebecca Jewett.

[Reference E, which claims to have all the inscriptions to 1900 in the tombstones of old Litchfield town, has no Caulkins or variant of that name -- JEM.]

[Assuming the completeness of the town records and neglecting both the possibility that the John we are seeking was born to a descendent of Hugh the immigrant at a point distant from the Thames (on which both New London and Norwich are located) and returned to nearby Lebanon, and the possibility that he was an immigrant or the son of an immigrant not the Hugh of reference F, there appear to be only three possibilities to consider for the descent of 1 0¹ 01¹
00 00¹ Solomon C as the son of a John C. He cannot be descended from ta and his wife Lois if the Norwich records are complete. The possibilities are:

First and most likely, that X, above, is tca, and that his son Solomon or tcaa is the Solomon we seek.

Second, that X is a son of tb, born in Lebanon before any town records were kept and during the long interval between tbb and tby [but such a person would more likely be the John C third, husband of Sarah Huntington, who had no Solomon] and that the lineage of Solomon is tbxa.

Third, that X is tb himself and our Solomon is tba.

Most probable, but by no means overwhelmingly likely, lineage is, then:

^BCame over in the same vessel as James Skiffe.

[From my notes it cannot be stated with certainty that reference C mentions Margaret by name; possibly the death date give is that of Mary -- , already listed on sheet 1 110 0^{1 01}_{00 00}1 -- JEM.]

[NOTE: Reference B mentions no basis for the allegation that Margaret Reeves was the wife of James and the mother of Nathaniel I. Especially in view of the report that James' wife was Mary, the identification of Margaret Reeves with 0 110 0^{1 01}_{00 00}1 must be considered as needing verification -- JEM.]

ALPHABETICAL INDEX

Listing here implies only that the name may be found in this record as indicated. For any critical study of the relationship indicated, see the appropriate sheet.

For the order of placement of the name sheets see CONTENTS.

In general only direct ancestors and their descendents, and their spouses, are listed.

Notice that the same surname may be listed several times, for different branches of the family.

Minor variations of a surname are not differentiated.

Women are usually listed by maiden name only.

The main reference is given beside the surname, and the given name of the most closely related person is shown underneath without further identification. Beside other given names the digit "1" is to be considered as placed to the left, and the other symbols to the right, of the main reference; e.g., the two Nathan Bucknams are 1 011 001 and 1 011 001b.

* means (in this index only), married to.

+ means, some connection other than direct ancestry and descent from a direct ancestor.
